OAKLAND UNIVERSITY LAND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Oakland University resides on the ancestral, traditional, and contemporary lands of the Anishinaabe, known as the Three Fires Confederacy, comprised of the Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi. The land was ceded in the 1807 Treaty of Detroit and makes up southeast Michigan.

In recognizing the history and respecting the sovereignty of Michigan's Indian Nations, Oakland University honors the heritage of Indigenous communities and their significant role in shaping the course of this region. Further, we recognize the wrongs done to those forcibly removed from their Homelands and commit to fostering an environment of inclusion that is responsive to the needs of First Peoples through our words, policies, and actions.

The preservation and perpetuation of customs and traditions of Indigenous nations are essential to our shared cultural heritage. A deep understanding of Native peoples' past and present informs the teaching, research, and community engagement of the university in its ongoing effort to elevate the dignity of all people and serve as shared stewards of the land.

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY MOTTO

The motto of Oakland University, “Seguir Virtute E. Canoskenza,” which is incorporated in its seal, has a distinguished origin, Canto XXVI, line 120, of Dante’s Inferno.

These are the final words of Ulysses’ great speech to his men urging them to sail on and on in pursuit of knowledge and experience of the world — even beyond the pillars of Hercules, traditionally the frontier and limit of legitimate exploration.

This is the three-line stanza:

Considerate la vostra semenza

Fatti non foste a viver come bruti

Ma per seguir virtute e canoskenza

Consider your birth

You were not made to live like brutes

But to follow courage and knowledge

Message from the President

Congratulations to the Oakland University Class of 2026! We are so proud of all you have accomplished and are thrilled to share this special occasion with you.

Today's commencement ceremony may feel like a finish line, but it is also a beginning. While you have reached an important milestone, today marks the start of the next chapter of your lives, whether that leads to a new career, graduate study or another path.

Wherever your journey leads, your experience here at Oakland has prepared you well to pursue your dreams and shape a better future. I have every confidence in your future success and know you will make a meaningful impact in our ever-changing and interconnected world.

I hope you will always remember your days at Oakland University and the people who helped you become the person you are today.

On behalf of the faculty and staff of Oakland University, congratulations on your graduation! We look forward to staying connected with you and celebrating your continued success.

Ora Hirsch Pescovitz, MD,
President

Message from the Provost

Congratulations, Class of 2026! You did it!

Today is a day to truly celebrate all that you have accomplished. You met deadlines, navigated challenges, balanced responsibilities, and kept moving forward. You have grown not only in knowledge, but in confidence, resilience, and purpose. Watching your journey has been inspiring, and I hope you feel just how proud this entire OU community is of you. You embody Golden Grizzly Grit.

As you cross the stage at commencement, take a moment to breathe it in... and pause. This milestone reflects your dedication and determination, but it also reflects the people who stood beside you. Family members who encouraged you. Friends who supported you. Faculty who challenged you to think more deeply and aim higher. Advisors and staff who helped you find your way. Your success is shared and celebrated.

Today, you join our alumni community and remain part of Oakland University in a lasting way. You are part of a story that began with our founder, Matilda Dodge Wilson, and continues through each graduate who carries OU's values into the world. Now it becomes your chapter to write. You will use what you have learned to lead with integrity, to serve with compassion, to create with courage, and to contribute in ways that strengthen your communities and shape your own life with purpose.

With your preparation, your resilience, and your Oakland University degree, your opportunities are expansive. I have every confidence that you will make a meaningful difference in your communities, in the lives of others, and in your own life as you continue to grow, lead, and discover new possibilities.

I am so proud of you.

With Golden Grizzly Pride,

Amy Thompson, Ph.D., FESG, CHES,
Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost

MACE AND PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

In medieval times, a mace was used in warfare. The mace is one of the oldest traditions in academe dating back to the early 1400's when it transitioned from warfare to ceremonial use. Considered a symbol of the University itself, the scepter mace is carried by the University marshal during commencement, convocation and other ceremonial events to signify the arrival of the faculty processional. Oakland's mace, created in 1994, was crafted by jeweler and OU alumnus, Paul Haig and designer Robert Dobbie of P.R. Haig Jewelers in Rochester.

The 30-inch long, approximately 8-pound mace has a white oak handle trimmed with sterling silver ribbon. A black obsidian disk on top is ringed with silver and is inscribed with the University motto. Obsidian is a natural black glass formed by the earth. On each side of the obsidian disk, there is a 14k yellow gold sail. On the base of the handle, a gold oak tree was modeled after a live tree on campus. The clean, straightforward design of the mace reflects the fact that Oakland University is a contemporary institution.

The President's Medallion, also created in 1994 by the same jeweler, is six inches in diameter and reveals the University sail, hangs on a silver chain and is worn by the president at ceremonial events. It is a permanent part of the University's president's academic regalia.

Mission

Oakland University cultivates the full potential of a diverse and inclusive community. As a public doctoral institution, we impact Michigan and the world through education, research, scholarship, and creative activity.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

On at least two solemn occasions during the academic calendar — spring and fall commencement — the faculty of the University publicly displays its full academic regalia and participates in the liturgy of processional and recessional, that curious coming and going that symbolizes the ceremony of commencement. The purposes of commencement are well known, but the reasons for the peculiar garb of the celebrants and their odd order of march are often as obscure to the audience as they are, in fact, to the faculty itself. This note may serve to explain academic dress and the professional pecking order it costumes.

Contemporary academics are descendants of clerical schoolmen in the universities of medieval Europe. Like the clergy, members of the bench and bar, and other learned professions, medieval scholars were clothed in heavy robes to stay warm in unheated stone buildings. Like all members of a hierarchical society, the medieval faculties rejoiced in visible insignia of rank. These outward signs of accomplishment and authority were tailored into robes. Although the need for such voluminous garments to keep the scholar from freezing is long past, the use of them as emblems of dignity remains. You will observe that all caps and gowns worn by our faculty are black, with certain exceptions. Black was the color adopted by mutual agreement among American universities at the end of the 19th century. In Europe, each University has its own distinctive gown, varying in color and cut from all others.

There are three basic academic degrees: the baccalaureate or bachelor's degree, the master's degree, and the doctorate. A special style of robe is prescribed for each. The bachelor's gown is sparsely cut, neat, but a bit skimpy and unadorned, as befits apprentices. The master's gown is still simple, but fuller, sports a sleeve of extraordinary design impossible to describe, and has a hood draped from the shoulders down the back. Once used to keep the frost from the tonsured heads of medieval clerks, the hood is solely a badge of a degree of scholarly achievement. The master's hood is small and narrow, but displays the colors of the institution that awarded the degree. If you knew the colors of American universities, you could easily identify whence came our masters. The doctoral robe is the most handsome of academic raiment. Generous of cut, of fine aristocratic stuff, it is faced with velvet chevrons on the ample sleeves. You will note that most of the velvet facings and chevrons are black, but that some are of other colors. According to personal taste, the doctor may display the color of his or her doctoral degree on the sleeves and facings: light blue for education, pink for music, apricot for nursing, orange for engineering, and many more. The royal blue of the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) is the most commonly seen in liberal arts institutions such as Oakland. The doctor's hood is the most elegant of all academic appurtenances. Large and graceful, it is lined in satin with the colors of the University that awarded the degree and is bordered with the color of the degree itself.

Most academic costumes include the square cap called a mortarboard; the doctor's tassel may be either black or gold — tassels of all other degrees are black and stringy.

To instructed eyes, the order of march in the processional and recessional reveals the standing of individuals in the institution's formal hierarchy. In the processional, the order of entrance into the hall is, quite fittingly, from most junior to most senior. The baccalaureate candidates enter first, followed successively by the masters and doctoral candidates with the whole separated from the faculty by a decent interval. In the faculty order, the instructors precede the assistant professors that in turn are followed by the associate professors. The august full professors bring up the rear. After a respectful distance come the deans who in turn are separated by a significant space from the awful majesty of the platform party, the vice president, the president, and the members of the board of trustees. All remain standing until the board is seated. After the ceremony, the order of recessional is the reverse of the processional. The greatest dignitaries stream out first, with the artfully organized ranks of priority wallowing in their wake.

It is hoped that these notes may make more intelligible the spectacle you are witnessing today. A discerning intelligence may detect in it many clues to an understanding of the academic profession as it confronts the ambiguities of the future with ancient wisdom and dignified confidence.

About Oakland University

Oakland University was created in 1957, when the late Alfred and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,500-acre estate to Michigan State University to begin a new college in Oakland County.

Named Michigan State University-Oakland, the new campus enrolled its first 570 students in 1959. In 1963, its name changed to Oakland University as the first class graduated with 125 students receiving diplomas. In 1970, the Michigan Legislature recognized the maturity and stature of the University by granting it autonomy, and the governor appointed Oakland University's first Board of Trustees.

From its beginnings, the University has emphasized academic quality, concentrating on providing a dynamic, student-focused learning environment with integration of liberal and professional studies by a faculty of dedicated scholar-teachers. The natural beauty of the campus, much of it still wooded and undeveloped, is enhanced by comprehensive recreational facilities and modern buildings that house the University's many academic and public service programs as well as more than 2,000 residential students.

Dedicated to preparing graduates to make meaningful and substantial contributions to the workplace, society and academia, the University is organized into eight academic units: the College of Arts and Sciences; the schools of Business Administration, Education and Human Services, Engineering and Computer Science, Health Sciences, Medicine, and Nursing; and The Honors College.

Oakland offers more than 240 bachelor's, graduate, and certificate programs combined. Doctorates are offered in education with concentrations in educational leadership, counseling and early childhood education; biomedical sciences with specializations in medical physics, health and environmental chemistry, and biological communication; reading education; systems and mechanical engineering; physical therapy; applied mathematical sciences; nursing practice; music education; computer science and informatics; psychology, medicine, and electrical and computer engineering.

The University is continuously adapting to meet the changing needs of students and the marketplace. New programs delivered online and on campus include master's degree programs in nursing, psychology, training and development, public health, software engineering, an Executive MBA program in health care management, and innovative Honors College courses. Business and industry partnerships provide unprecedented opportunities for advanced, hands-on learning.

Now, over 14,000 students attend classes at Oakland University each year, and the number of OU alumni has increased to more than 140,000.

GLENN MCINTOSH

Glenn McIntosh was a seasoned higher education administrator with more than three decades of progressive leadership experience in student affairs, enrollment management, and academic support services. He served as Senior Vice President for Student Affairs and Chief Diversity Officer at Oakland University, where he provided strategic leadership for a comprehensive portfolio of student-centered programs and services supporting recruitment, retention, and student success.

In this role, McIntosh oversaw 24 functional areas, including admissions, financial aid, housing, student activities, multicultural initiatives, and campus recreation, with responsibility for a $40 million budget and division-wide personnel management. He played a pivotal role in advancing institutional priorities, contributing to record-setting enrollment and retention outcomes, and strengthening cross-divisional collaboration to enhance the overall student experience.

Throughout his tenure at Oakland University, McIntosh demonstrated a deep commitment to student advocacy, diversity and inclusion, and organizational excellence. He led numerous high-impact initiatives, including the development of student success collaborations, major campus facility enhancements, and strategic vendor partnerships that resulted in long-term financial and operational benefits for the university. He was also instrumental in securing additional staffing resources to improve student access and support services.

Prior to his role as Senior Vice President, McIntosh served as Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students, where he provided leadership for a broad range of student services and campus life operations. He founded the Academic Advising Resource Center, pioneering a technology-supported and proactive advising model designed to improve student engagement and success. Earlier in his career, he served as the founding Director of the Center for Multicultural Initiatives, where he developed nationally recognized programs aimed at increasing the recruitment, retention, and graduation of underrepresented students.

McIntosh began his career in higher education at Wayne State University, Bowling Green State University, and Eastern Michigan University, holding roles in academic advising, recruitment, and housing administration. Across all of his positions, he was recognized for his collaborative leadership style, strategic vision, and unwavering commitment to fostering inclusive, student-centered environments.

Beyond his professional accomplishments, Glenn McIntosh was a devoted husband to his beloved wife and life partner, Lia McIntosh. Together, they built a life grounded in love, kindness, and deep connection with family and friends. Glenn touched countless lives with his generosity, warmth, and genuine spirit. He will be remembered not only for his lasting impact on higher education, but for the compassion, integrity, and joy he brought to all who knew him.

LAURIE MARKER

Professor Laurie Marker is one of the world's leading authorities on cheetah conservation, renowned for pioneering research, visionary leadership, and global impact on wildlife. Her journey began in 1974 at Oregon's Wildlife Safari, where she managed the veterinary clinic and developed the country's most successful cheetah breeding program, laying the foundation for breakthroughs in cheetah health and genetics. In 1977, Marker's pioneering fieldwork in Namibia showed she could rewild captive-born cheetahs and uncovered livestock farmers were killing hundreds of cheetahs annually. Determined to address this crisis, she forged collaborative research partnerships in 1982 with the United States National Cancer Institute and the Smithsonian Institution's National Zoo, playing a central role in identifying the cheetah's alarming lack of genetic diversity—a discovery that fundamentally changed conservation science.

In 1988, Professor Marker became Executive Director of New Opportunities in Animal Health Sciences Center (NOAHS) at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., advancing animal health and genetics research. The following year, she relocated to Namibia at its independence, establishing the Cheetah Conservation Fund (CCF) and launching the first predator conservation program outside protected areas. Her innovative, science-based strategies integrated cheetah biology, ecology, and livestock management, providing sustainable solutions to human-wildlife conflict and setting new global standards for predator conservation.

At the CCF's internationally recognised Research and Education Centre in Namibia, Marker built a state-of-the-art veterinary clinic and genetics laboratory, personally overseeing the health, rescue, and rehabilitation of more than 1,800 cheetahs, creating the most comprehensive cheetah health database. Her leadership in developing Namibia's Conservancy programs has empowered local communities and fostered sustainable wildlife management. Serving as Chair of the Conservancy Association of Namibia and the Large Carnivore Management Association,, Marker's influence has been integral to conservation initiatives in Namibia.

Professor Marker's impact is global. She has united research and conservation scientists, and government officials from nearly every cheetah range country, facilitating knowledge exchange and collaboration, strengthening conservation programs across Africa and beyond, including founding the Cheetah Rescue and Conservation Centre (CRCC) in Somaliland in 2017. There, she leads the care of over 125 confiscated cheetah cubs rescued from the illegal wildlife pet trade and trains veterinarians, wildlife managers, farmers, teachers, law enforcement, and community leaders to combat the illegal trade and protect cheetahs.

In recent years, Marker has played a pivotal role in developing Somaliland's first community conservancies and contributed to the historic reintroduction of cheetahs to India in 2022. She holds a DPhil in Zoology from Oxford University, is an A.D. White Professor-at-Large at Cornell University and has authored over 170 peer-reviewed scientific papers and four influential books, including the definitive textbook CHEETAHS: Biology and Conservation. Her achievements have been recognised with numerous awards, including the Tyler Prize for Environmental Achievement, the E.O. Wilson Biodiversity Technology Pioneer Award, the Explorer's Club President's Award for Conservation, the Lowell Thomas Award, the Society of Women's Geographers Gold Medal, and the Order of the California Condor. Professor Marker's enduring motto, "Save the Cheetah and Change the World", reflects her lifelong dedication to the species and wildlife conservation. ### ROBERT “BOBBY” SCHOSTAK

Founded in 1920, Bobby and his brothers oversee Schostak Family Enterprises, a Michigan-based commercial and industrial real estate company, as well as TEAM Schostak Family Restaurants, which owns and operates restaurants including Applebee's, MOD Pizza, and Olga's Kitchen throughout the state of Michigan. The company is now in its fourth generation.

Bobby is also the CEO and General Partner of the Birmingham, Michigan-based MadDog Venture Capital, a fund focused on early-stage tech startups.

He is also the founder of Templar Baker Group, a political consulting and fundraising firm based in Lansing, Michigan, which has clients across the US.

Bobby serves on the boards of several companies, including Belle Tire, Boji Group Real Estate, Michigan Capital Advisors, and Gardner White Furniture, and acts as an advisor to several early and mid-stage tech startup investments. In addition, he serves on the Management Committee for the Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine and on the advisory boards for both the Republican Governors Association and the Republican Jewish Coalition.

Bobby has been married to Nancy for 48 years; they have three adult married children and eleven grandchildren.

DEBRA A. PRUENT

Debra A. Pruent is a retired global business executive who spent her career in market research, data science, and strategic consulting. She concluded her corporate career with the German-based global market research and analytics company GfK SE (now NIQ), where she served as Chief Operating Officer and a member of the Management Board. In addition to her executive responsibilities, she held board positions for GfK's companies in Italy, Austria, China, and India, contributing to the organization's global growth strategy.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Wayne State University, Pruent earned dual Bachelor of Science degrees in Mathematics and Computer Science in 1983. She began her career at General Motors Research Laboratories and, during that time, completed a Master of Science in Applied Statistics at Oakland University. In 1991, she joined the automotive research startup Allison-Fisher, which was later acquired by GfK in 2004. She subsequently relocated to New York City to lead GfK's North American business and was appointed to the company's Management Board in 2008.

Throughout her career, Pruent built a strong track record in research and consultancy and developed significant global mergers and acquisitions experience, leading multiple acquisitions and large-scale integrations as GfK expanded its portfolio across 61 countries. She remained engaged in professional and academic communities, including serving as an adjunct professor in the Mathematics and Statistics Department at Oakland University. She has served on numerous company boards and is currently an emeritus member of the Graduate School Advisory Board at Oakland University.

Since retiring, Pruent has devoted her time to nonprofit initiatives focused on poverty alleviation and financial empowerment. She has taught the Getting Ahead program in Pontiac for the past seven years and launched and now leads a budgeting and financial coaching initiative called Money Matters. She also served on a microloan board that provides lending opportunities for individuals with limited credit access and continues to support Oakland University's Math Corps program for underserved youth.

Pruent and her husband, Jeff VanHoorne, also an Oakland University alumnus (MS, Computer Science), have lived in Rochester Hills since 2017 and remain active supporters of the university. Together, they established the Graduate School Finish Line Scholarship Fund and endowed a full scholarship for a Master of Science in Cybersecurity through the College of Engineering.

RYAN MOSTILLER

Few professionals remain as connected to their alma mater as Ryan, whose entire career traces back to the relationships and experiences he built as a student at Oakland University. From the moment he first walked onto campus, he embraced what it means to be a Golden Grizzly — a commitment to leadership, service, and community that continues to define his work today.

Ryan is a cybersecurity leader in the Metro Detroit community, having served in leadership roles at several international Fortune 500 organizations. He currently serves as Senior Manager at BorgWarner, where he leads cybersecurity teams responsible for protecting the organization from digital threats and operational disruption.

A two-time Oakland University graduate, Ryan earned both a Bachelor of Science in Information Technology and a Master of Science in Information Technology Management. He now gives back to the classroom as a lecturer at Oakland University, teaching the Security for Executives course in the Executive MBA program and helping prepare the next generation of technology leaders.

Ryan's professional journey began at Oakland University as a student employee in Student Affairs and later continued in a full-time role with the OUWB School of Medicine. His connection to the university has remained strong through sustained service and leadership.

He has played a key role in shaping the Young Alumni Council and the Graduate Studies Board, and has volunteered for Leadership OU and numerous student mentoring initiatives. Among his proudest accomplishments is co-founding and chairing the Golden Grizzly Spirit Award, a scholarship that has recognized the university's most spirited students for 10 consecutive years.

Ryan is an active voice in the cybersecurity community and regularly presents at industry events, including SecureWorld, GrrCON, ISC2, and Evanta, sharing insights on security leadership and emerging threats.

Outside of his professional work, Ryan has been an Oakland University basketball season ticket holder for more than 15 years and enjoys attending games with his family. Above all, he values time spent with his wife and two children, supporting their interests and activities. A proud Michigander, Ryan remains deeply committed to the community that has shaped both his personal and professional journey.

CARLIE AUSTIN

Carlie Austin serves as the Strategic Planning Director at the Detroit Medical Center and leads Strategic partnerships and advocacy at Redeem Detroit in addition to being a phenomenal nurse and nursing advocate. She is also a Ph.D. candidate in the College of Nursing and the Bridge Graduate Certificate in Public Health in the College of Medicine at Wayne State University, where her groundbreaking research focuses on the intersection of hospital quality inequities and health disparities, particularly as they impact Black infant health outcomes in obstetric and neonatal care settings.

In addition to her academic and healthcare leadership work, Carlie is the former Maternal and Infant Health Policy Specialist for the Michigan Health and Hospital Association, a pioneering role she was the first to hold. This position was created to address the national and state mandates to equitably improve maternal and infant health outcomes, particularly at the hospital level. Carlie's 8-year bedside career at Children's Hospital of Michigan began at Oakland University through the BSN preceptorship program.

Carlie has been recognized with prestigious awards for her clinical care and for her leadership in founding and leading the HEAL team—a groundbreaking interdisciplinary initiative designed to ensure equitable experiences and outcomes for unit communities. Carlie has also spearheaded several Black Maternal Health events and initiatives, contributing to vital conversations on healthcare justice, structural drivers of health, and the systemic issues that shape systems and outcomes.

Carlie's expertise and dedication to these critical issues have made her a sought-after keynote speaker, and tonight we are fortunate to hear from her on the vital topics of Black Maternal and Infant Health, healthcare justice, and the structural determinants of health.

UNIVERSITY, DEPARTMENTAL, SCHOOL AND CONCILIAR HONORS

At each commencement Oakland University extends special recognition to those students who have attained outstanding levels of academic achievement.

The University Senate, acting on the advice of its Committee on Academic Standing and Honors, authorizes University Honors at three levels for those students who have completed 62 credits or more at Oakland, with cumulative averages as follows:

Summa Cum Laude 3.90 - 4.00

Magna Cum Laude 3.75 - 3.89

Cum Laude 3.60 - 3.74

Students who have earned University Honors wear a gold cord over their academic regalia.

Each student who has a record of superior achievement in a major field of study is awarded departmental honors and is identified by a red cord worn over academic regalia.

Conciliar Honors are awarded by the Faculty Council for Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies to outstanding graduates of the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary and Integrated Studies program, who are identified by a red cord worn over academic regalia.

Alumni Association

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations on your graduation and welcome to the OU Alumni Family! You are now part of an alumni network that numbers over 140,000 strong!

I encourage you to stay in touch and remain engaged in the life of the University through the Oakland University Alumni Association. As an alum, you automatically qualify to receive the benefits available through the alumni association without membership fees. Please connect with us via LinkedIn, Facebook or Instagram or click the QR code below for more information about how to get involved.

Together, we make a difference by participating in virtual and in person events, volunteering our time, making a gift, advocating for OU, mentoring OU students, and sharing our OU pride. One of the most important things we can continue to do is support scholarships and provide opportunities that help ensure the success of the next generation of OU graduates. I hope you to continue to participate in the life of the University in a way that is meaningful for you.

On behalf of the Oakland University Alumni Association Board of Directors, thank you for all that you have done during your time here as students – you are living, breathing examples of the transformation and opportunity made possible by an Oakland University education.

Good luck in all you do as you begin this next chapter in your life.

Best Regards,

Nicholas Kristock, SBA '13 and '14
Chair, OUAA Board of Directors
